

Breaking Bad

Skyler White

Marie is a shoplifter, Hank. That's right. That baby tiara she gave me at the shower? She stole it from Gertrude Zachary's. Yeah I almost got arrested when I went back to return it. And Marie won't admit it. She won't apologize (beat) You knew about this. We need to support her? I need support. Me. The almost 40 year old pregnant woman with a surprise baby on the way. And the husband with lung cancer who disappears from hours on end and I don't where he goes. And he barely even speaks to me anymore. With the moody son who does the same thing. And the overdrawn bank account. And the lukewarm water heater that leaks rusty-looking crap and is rotting out the floor of the utility closet and we can't even afford to fix it. But oh! I see! I'm supposed to go, "Hank, please! What can I do to further benefit my spoiled, kleptomaniac, sister who somehow always manages to be the centre of attention?" Because God knows she's the one with the really important problems.

***Please note these sides are clearly for a woman approaching the age of 40 – please adjust this section so that it works for you. Maybe you're a younger woman who is pregnant – maybe you're a man who has a pregnant wife and a brother with lung cancer or maybe your daughter is pregnant. Just adjust the sides as needed so that they work for your brief.
