

La La Land

Mia is explaining to Sebastian why she doesn't want to attend her big audition.

I'm not going. Because it's just another audition. Do you wanna know what's gonna happen? Either....either I'm gonna get interrupted cos someone ordered a sandwich or they're gonna cut me off after two seconds or I'm gonna be crying and they're gonna start laughing or I'm gonna be one in a hundred lookalikes sitting in a waiting room and I'm gonna be the one that didn't have a chance, cos.....cos maybe I'm not good enough, ok? It's a pipe dream. Maybe it's like what you said - maybe it's time I grew up. I left school to give it a shot and it hasn't worked out and it's been 6 years and I don't wanna do it anymore. Cos it hurts a little bit too much.
